Joe is currently in his 2nd year at The Village, and he feels incredibly blessed to have made good friends here. He's discovering a love for art and is eager to study and improve his skills. Joe also enjoys caring for his collection of pots and plants, and he's known to be a good eater. Despite having tremors, they disappear when he engages in his art, which is truly inspirational to those around him. Joe considers The Village the best place he has ever lived, and his sister plays a big role in helping him out.
